

C. E. JONES came to town only a short time ago but during the period he has been here he's taken great strides to brighten up the area around Route 45 in East Harrisburg. First he tore down some frame cabins last year and installed 16 modern brick motel units at his Dixie motel. Most recently he tore down the Dixie cafe building and in the foreground is the building he had constructed, an office and residence building made out of Beauty Stone by Fanno Bledig, Galatia contractor, which contains office, living room, kitchen, three bedrooms and bath. To the right an old service station building already has been razed and a two-story garage building also will be torn down in order for Mr. Jones to add seven more motel units this fall. ## Find Body of H. Kendall Olds, Aide to Ex-Auditor Hodge, in Lake Springfield Publicity Man Had Been Kept On Job by Morey

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.)—The Sangamon County sheriff's office today reported the body of H. Kendall Olds, an aide to ex-auditor Orville E. Hodge, today was recovered from Lake Springfield.

The office said the body was positively identified as Olds by friends of the dead man.

Lake police reported the body was discovered by a caretaker at the Sangamo Surf Club, floating in the lake. It was discovered at about 10:30 a. m.

Olds, 46, handled publicity for the former auditor and was retained in the job by Auditor Lloyd Morey who was appointed by Gov. William G. Stratton to fill out Hodge's unexpired term.

The body was discovered by Mr. F. Schimenz floating 15 feet off the boat docks of the club.

Both Schimenz and Olds were Surf Club members. Schimenz said he spotted Olds' black Chevrolet car near the lake. He then saw Olds' body floating in five feet of water in the lake.

The ex-Hodge aide was floating on his face, with his back and shoulders out of the water, Schimenz said.

No Notes in Auto

Authorities said they found no notes in Olds' car. Coroner W. C. Telford ordered the body taken into Springfield by ambulance.

Telford said Olds' wife, Thelma, reported her husband left home about 8 p. m. Tuesday and did not return. She said the auditor's office called her home this morning when Olds did not report for work.

Telford said the body was partly floating when it was discovered. Olds' glasses were on the dashboard of his car.

Olds, a former Springfield newspaperman, is a former press secretary for the Illinois Legislative Correspondent's Assn. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Cheryl.

Friends of the family said Aug. 1 is the 12th wedding anniversary of the couple.

The body was removed from the water at 11:10 a. m., 1 hour and 25 minutes after it was discovered. Olds was fully clothed, wore dark brown trousers and a white short sleeved sports shirt.

A state employee reported having seen him in a tavern near the lake at about 10 p. m. Tuesday.

Olds started to work for Hodge during the 1952 campaign, and handled his publicity. After the election he became Hodge's administrative assistant in charge of press relations.

Meanwhile, there were conflicting reports about the state of Hodge's health.

Hodge's chief attorney, Arthur M. Fitzgerald, hinted Tuesday that Hodge had suffered a heart attack. John J. Casper, caretaker of Hodge's house, said his employer had been stricken by "nervous reaction."

Meanwhile, Gov. William G. Stratton prepared to explain his handling of the scandal over a Chicago television station tonight. Stratton forced Hodge's resignation after the scandal broke.

C. W. Wren of Eldorado was picked up at Benton yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed and James Lyon and brought here, where he was wanted on a warrant charging issuance of a fraudulent check.

Name Cairo Man To HTHS Faculty

Hal Killebrew of Cairo has been employed to teach history and civics and assist in football and the spring sports program at Harrisburg Township high school, Principal Eltis F. Henson announced today.

Killebrew is a graduate of Cairo high school and Murray State College and worked last year on his Master's degree at Murray. He was a classmate and teammate of Ben Channess, HTHS instructor and member of the coaching staff, at both Cairo and Murray.

Mr. Henson said he now has a prospect to teach girls' physical education and hopes to make an announcement on securing this teacher soon. He also is looking for a combination home economics and general science teacher and one to teach shorthand and typing.

Teachers who resigned at the end of the past year were Mrs. James Arensman of Harrisburg, who taught girls' physical education; Cleon Bennett, who taught orientation; Ted Cain, who taught commercial subjects; and Mrs. Stella Harris, a home economics intern who was teaching part time here while working on her Master's degree at SIU.

Stevenson Gets Big Push as Kefauver Quits

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Democratic National Convention delegates scrambled today to get aboard Adlai E. Stevenson's bandwagon.

The bandwagon was given a big push by Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who announced his own withdrawal from the race for the Democratic presidential nomination and threw his support to Stevenson.

Kefauver was standing in front of an "exit" sign when he made his announcement at a news conference Tuesday. He said he acted in the interest of party unity and because he would not be a party to throwing the national convention into a deadlock, which he said was the only means of stopping a Stevenson nomination.

However, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who already had displaced Kefauver as Stevenson's major challenger, said he would keep on fighting. He predicted he will get a majority of the former Kefauver delegates.

But Kefauver said today he expects "a great majority" of his delegates to follow his lead and support Stevenson.

In a television interview, Kefauver refused to be pinned down on whether he would accept the vice presidential nomination, saying he will "cross that bridge when and if I reach it."

A reported suggestion after the broadcast that Kefauver might be a logical choice for attorney general in a Stevenson cabinet. To which, Kefauver replied quickly: "I would not give up my Senate seat for any cabinet post."

Meaning Of The Move

Kefauver's decision meant that: —Stevenson, on the verge of victory 12 days before the national convention opens at Chicago, could win on the first ballot.

—As of now, the Democratic contest is a two-man race between Stevenson and Harriman. A deadlock is most unlikely unless an alliance is formed by favorite son candidates firmly opposed to both of the chief contenders or unless the South deserts Stevenson.

—Former President Truman, who is publicly neutral but is regarded as pro-Harriman, is on the spot if he wants to try to stop the nomination of Stevenson, whom he helped to nominate four years ago.

—Stevenson's only major problem now appears to be avoiding entanglement in a party platform fight which would drive his Southern support into a neutral corner. He now can count on most of the Southern delegates.

At Kansas City, Mo., Mr. Truman had a noncommittal comment on Kefauver's decision. He said only that the Tennesseean must have felt that he had no chance of winning.

28,000 Aluminum Workers Walk Off Jobs; Picket Lines Set Up as Talks Bog Down

PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—The United Steelworkers today called more than 28,000 members off their jobs at facilities of the nation's two largest aluminum producers in a strike that paralyzed production of 50 per cent of the defense-vital metal.

The strike began at midnight when current contracts expired and negotiations bogged down in New York. It closed 21 plants across the nation operated by the Aluminum Company of America and the Reynolds Metals Co.

But the Aluminum Workers Union, bargaining here for some 15,000 workers at nine ALCOA plants, agreed to postpone its threatened walkout.

The AWU called a 24-hour strike to force an all-night bargaining session and its members stayed on the job. The union also agreed to a "day-by-day" delay with Reynolds.

The USW, which has a traditional "no contract, no work" policy, already was involved in a billion-dollar strike against the basic steel industry. But this strike, now in its 32nd day, was on the verge of settlement.

Today's walkout was the first major strike in the aluminum industry in seven years and the second since the end of World War II.

N. A. Zenarich, chief USW negotiator in the Alcoa talks, said the aluminum companies "failed to match the steel settlement of 45.6 cents an hour."

The companies retorted by saying that they offered the union a three-year agreement calling for a package increase about equal to that offered by the steel companies.

Society Horse Show, Frontier Days at County Fair Tonight

Saline county fairgoers tonight will get to see six classes of the Society horse show starting at seven o'clock followed by a second performance of Steele's Frontier Days.

Last night the gathering saw the Western horse show and the first Frontier Days performance, quite a spectacle.

There were six classes of the Western show, and handsome trophies were presented to the winners of each class.

The first four winners in each class are listed, with the name of the horse and the owner or rider:

Western Equitation, with the Polks Shoe Store trophy going to Frankie Lane, owned by Leo Weir, New Harmony, Ind.; Kawliga, Judy Pool, Harrisburg; Miss Billy Reed, Mrs. Bob Wesley, Sturgis, Ky.; Nancy Wagner, Don Strickland, New Harmony, Ind.

Western Parade, with Royal Sheik, owned by J. D. Hayes of West Frankfort winning the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. trophy; Hollywood Snapper, Shady Grass Stables, Marissa; Golden Sandy Boy, Thelma Wilson, Mt. Carmel; Dude, Ben Lawrence, Johnston City.

Western Pony under 52 inches was won by Rosey, owned by Maurice Beasley of Eldorado and ridden by Ronnie Beasley, and it received the Rainbow's Drug Store trophy; Tiny King, Thelma Wilson, Mt. Carmel; Champ, James Winters, Carmi; Firecracker, Roy Willis, Sturgis, Ky.

Don Strickland's Nancy Wagner and Frankie Lane won the Gaskins Lumber Co. trophy in the Western Pairs class. Next three placers were Hanks Bell and Redd Flurry owned by Darrell Hanks of Crossville; Miss Billy Reed and Miss Starr, owned by Jim

Nixon Perfectly Acceptable To President

Talks to Reporters At First Conference Since June 6

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — President Eisenhower told a news conference today that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is perfectly acceptable to him as a 1956 running mate. The chief executive also said that Harold E. Stassen was completely within his rights as a private citizen in backing someone other than Nixon.

Mr. Eisenhower declined to state flatly that he wants Nixon. He said he would not presume to dictate to the Republican nominating convention.

The President talked to a crowd of 311 reporters at his first session with them since June 6. He made these other points of news:

1. He believes that he will be able to serve out another four years in office if re-elected. He said that physically he has improved every day since his June 9 ileitis operation.

2. He said the Suez Canal crisis posed a great issue to every nation with a sea coast. He said the United States must be sure that the rights of the world are not abused.

Praise for Stassen

3. He said he thought Stassen, his special assistant for disarmament matters, had done a very splendid job in his official role. On the basis of his information today, he expected Stassen to rejoin the official family after his leave of absence for politicking ends Aug. 27.

4. At no time after his June 9 major surgery was he in any doubt about running again. He said he regarded the operation as merely a matter of correction and

NEA Washington Correspondent

Both Parties Score Hits
In Record of This Congress

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —
With Congress winding up its session, there are the usual conflicting claims by Republicans and Democrats over which party deserves credit for doing the most.

This puts considerable strain on the discriminating voter. He may be perfectly willing to give the Eisenhower administration full credit for good programs it initiated.

At the same time he may want to give the Democrats — who were in control of both houses of Congress—the credit due them for their part of the record.

Thus the Eisenhower administration can take credit for initiating the biggest highway construction program in U. S. history. But when the President proposed was a 25-billion-dollar program financed by bond issues.

WHAT THE CONGRESS actually passed was a 37-billion-dollar program financed on a pay-as-you-go basis by an increase in excise taxes on gasoline and automotive supplies. There is a big difference between what went in and what came out.

The situations are reversed on farm legislation. Here the Eisenhower administration presented a comprehensive farm plan.
Largely ignoring it, Democratic leaders wrote their own bill which the President vetoed as unacceptable. Congress then passed the soil bank bill. It is a Republican trade-marked measure and the administration deserves credit for it.

Neither party's record looks good on federal aid for school construction. The Eisenhower administration proposed 250 million dollars a year for five years, distributed on the basis of greatest need. Democrats proposed a 400-million-dollar-a-year program for four years, distributed according to school population. But this was so loaded with amendments that even the Democrats couldn't stomach it. Barring some last-minute miracle, it is dead for the session.

WHILE PREVIOUS Democratic administrations started U. S. social security, the GOP can take full credit for the 83rd Congress extensions and increases in benefits.

But it was the Democratic 84th Congress which put through the lowering of retirement ages for women and the totally disabled.
This was done in spite of administration objections. It could still be vetoed, though it would be politically risky to do so.

The Eisenhower administration initiated an increase in minimum wages. But it must be remembered that the Congress refused to accept the President's recommendation for a raise from 75 to 90 cents an hour, and made it a full dollar.

The administration rates an
"A" for attempts to get the government out of competition with private enterprise on business-type operations. This effort was blocked, however, by the Congress reserving to itself the right to reject any proposal to close down a government operation which it wanted to keep going in any locality.

THE ADMINISTRATION made a sincere effort to continue its military assistance and foreign economic aid programs at a high level. This was rejected by an isolationist-minded Congress which insisted on cutting appropriations.

On the other hand, Democratic leaders tried to force on the administration larger Air Force appropriations than Department of Defense officials had asked for.

Voters can censure or praise
these records according to tastes and convictions.

Under the system of checks and balances of one branch of government by another, there are some things to be said in favor of having Congress controlled by one party and the Executive controlled by the other.

This may prevent some excesses. But it can also lead to do-nothing stalemates.

Doctor Says
Stevenson Is In Good Condition

CHICAGO (UP)—A doctor who has treated Adlai E. Stevenson since four years ago and performed surgery for removal of a stone in April, 1954.

Riba said that the candidate for the Democratic presidential noma routine examination. He called it a "general physical check-up primarily pointing toward his urinary tract."

Young trees have a better chance of survival if they are planted in the spring.

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Death passes very near to us on many occasions. When a friend is killed within our view we take stock of ourselves as well as feeling grief for the departed. We say to ourselves, "It could have happened to me."

It is well to look back on our own lives. We need to consider how we are doing. We must consider our moral standards and how we are measuring up to these standards. We often find that we have been lax in our responses to many temptations. But the moral questions are only a few of the items which we review as they flash past on the screens of our minds.

The thought of death frightens us because of the sins of omission we have committed. There are so many things that we ought to have done which we have left undone.
We have been so selfish in our thinking. We have done things and said things which have hurt
other people.

We have not really meant to slight our friends. We have not wanted to cause others mental anguish. We did not mean to be thoughtless. We merely followed the line of least resistance.

People cheat just a little bit.
They tell little untruths. They try to get a little for nothing. They take a little more than they pay for. They slap a little harder than they meant to slap.

When tragedy befalls our friends we are brought to our senses. For a few days we live better, but we

Kiwanians to Entertain Rotary

Kiwanis president Ronnie Doerge announced at last night's meeting held at the Masonic temple the club would entertain the Rotarians at the meeting next Tuesday at 6 p. m. The Rotarians were the winners of the annual baseball game with the Rotarians and the losers agreed to entertain the winners.

It was also announced the board of directors would meet next Monday at 6 p. m. at Schnierle's cafe. Members who have missed a meeting during July were asked to attend the board meeting.

Guests at last night's meeting were Rev. Joe Morman, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Frederick Christman of Michigan City, Ind., a former member of the club.

Pate Labels Drill Instructor Act as Stupid

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, commandant of the Marine Corps, testified today that he had been asked to act in the "death march" case of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon "I probably would have transferred him for stupidity or lack of judgment."

The four-star general, climactic witness in the general court-martial trial of McKeon, testified as a defense witness.

"I think I would have written into the books that this sergeant was never to drill troops again," the commandant told a packed courtroom.

His answer was made to a long hypothetical question read by chief defense counsel Emile Zola Berne. It reviewed the entire testimony of the trial, called after six men drowned during a death march into a tidal stream, led by McKeon to teach a laggard platoon discipline.

Prior to answering the hypothetical question, however, Pate said he did not regard a discipline march of recruits on a Sunday across the rifle range and into the swamps and tidal waters as oppression of troops.

Rights: Eisenhower

improvement. He never thought of pulling out of the re-election race.

On the vice presidency, Mr. Eisenhower refused to say whether he would be "happy" to run with Christian A. Herter, the Massachusetts Republican governor who is backed by Stassen. The President said he did not want to discuss personalities beyond Nixon and that he mentioned Nixon primarily because he now occupies the vice presidency.

Mr. Eisenhower, in one of his rare appearances in a double breasted suit, was noticeably thinner than the last time he met reporters. He seemed somewhat paler than usual, but displayed vitality and a degree of tolerance as reporters peppered him with frank questions — some involving his bowel movements, some citing a belief among some of his "friends" that he would not live out another term in office.

No Doubts About Health
Asked about a published report that he was suffering from a degree of dysentery as a result of the operation, Mr. Eisenhower said simply that this was not true.

Told that some of his neighbors at Gettysburg, Pa., feared for his longevity, the President said he was deeply grateful for their concern but that on the basis of his own feeling and the word from his doctors today, he had no doubts about his ability to continue in office.

The President was asked to appraise the accomplishments of the recently adjourned Congress.

The President smiled wryly and said he regarded the congressional record with mixed emotions — highly pleased on one hand regretful on another, and highly disappointed on some items.

Fined for Reckless Driving and Having No City License Tag

Billy Mallady, who twice got away from the city police car while driving Friday night, was picked up yesterday by police and arraigned before Police Magistrate Vern Joyner Jr. on charges of reckless driving and having no city auto tag.

Mallady pleaded guilty and was fined a total of $63.

Chief of Police Ross Lane, commenting on the amount of reckless driving going on in the city, said the police planned to follow through on cases where they said such acts occur and they do not get the offenders on the spot.

Dulles Promises U. S. Support to Firm Measures

Stops Short of Approving Force in Suez Dispute

LONDON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles promised American support to "firm measures" today for any "firm measures" they may take in the Suez Canal dispute. But he stopped short of approving the use of force.

Earlier, authoritative sources said Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden told Dulles that London and Paris were ready to go ahead on their own — using force if necessary — to put the canal under international control.

To implement that possibility, Britain already has alerted some of its military and naval forces for possible air and sea landings in the Suez Canal zone "as an extreme measure."

Dulles flew to London from Washington this morning at President Eisenhower's direction to present the American viewpoint. At his first meeting with Eden, Dulles was quoted by informed sources as saying that the President agreed that "firm measures" would be justified in maintaining freedom of passage through the canal.

Stress Diplomatic Action
But they said Dulles stressed the use of diplomatic and economic action — moves such as the partial freezing of Egyptian assets ordered by the United States Tuesday.

In any case, he said, Egypt should be dealt with fairly in any ultimate internationalization of the canal.

Eden was reported to have replied that Britain must reserve the right to take any action necessary, including military landings and naval action, to remove Egypt from sole control of the canal.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau told Dulles that France fully backs the British view when he met the secretary of state for private talks later in the afternoon.

In Washington, President Eisenhower told his news conference that continued efficient use of the Suez Canal is vital to the United States, as it is to every other country with a sea coast and maritime interests.

The British War Office took another step in the overall buildup of forces by ordering a troop transport en route to Singapore to turn back. The War Office said the Dunera would drop 180 troops at Malta and return the rest to Britain.

Not Extreme Measure
Authoritative sources said that while the possibility of actual troop landings in Egypt could not be rejected as an "extreme measure," they emphasized that this would be an action of last resort.

Priority was being given to other, less stringent actions, they said. Britain would be reluctant to prejudice the 1953 Anglo-Egyptian treaty under which it evacuated the Suez Canal.

President Signs Aid, Executive Pay Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed the battered $3,770,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill.

The bill gives him $1,130,000,000 less than he originally requested. It also cuts off nearly all future military aid to Communist Yugoslavia.

The President signed the bill Tuesday, posing an apparent reservation to the Yugoslavian aid ban.

He also signed bills boosting the pay of top government executives and appropriating $2,100,000,000 for a wide variety of government activities.

The House and Senate passed the compromise bill, worked out by House-Senate conferees, in the closing days of the 84th Congress. Behind the bill lay months of fighting in both chambers, both over the size of the original authorization bill and the total of actual appropriations.

The executive salary increase bill also liberalizes retirement benefits for Civil Service employees and members of Congress. The bill will cost the government $265,000,000 a year.

The bill raises retirement annuities for Civil Service employees and their surviving widows by about 25 per cent, and increases annuities of surviving minor children by about 150 per cent. Members of Congress were granted about the same increase.

State Police Arrest

Men for Robbery of Campbell Hill Bank

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — State police today reported three men who robbed a bank at Campbell Hill, Ill., of more than $2,500 have been apprehended.

State Police Chief William H. Marris said the bank was robbed about 10:50 a. m. by what was thought to be two men, who escaped in a late model panel truck which was stolen at Murphysboro.

Marris said the two men, and a third man found lying on the rear floor of a late model Packard car, were apprehended near Evansville, Ill., about 12:30 p. m. and were taken to Randolph County jail at Chester. The truck had been abandoned.

Police said the suspects identified themselves as George Linder, 25, Route 2, East St. Louis; Richard Leroy Townsend, 24, East St. Louis; and Eugene David, 49, Lexington, Ky.

McDaniels Return From Vacation Trip to Guatemala

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. McDaniel of Mac's Car and Home Supply, 17 South Main, and Mac's Goodyear Tire Service department, 3 South Jackson, returned recently from a 10 day vacation trip to Guatemala in Central America.

The tour was expense paid by the Philco Appliance Company Artphone Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel flew by plane from St. Louis to New Orleans, where they spent the night, afterwards flying to Guatemala City. From there they traveled by car to Antigua where they stayed three days. They spent three days at Lake Atitlan and from there took many short sight seeing tours.

Surrounding Lake Atitlan are twelve Indian villages which are named for the twelve disciples of Christ, they stated.

The couple spent one day in the village of Chichicastengo, one of the highest points in Guatemala, and ate lunch at the world-famous "Maya Inn." The village was an open market for the Indians to sell their goods. The Indians there are noted for their handwoven materials and silver wares, and their large "factories" will sometime include as many as "six" looms. One who can weave a skirt in a day is considered a good weaver, but one who can weave as many as ten skirts in one week is thought of as the best.

Another interesting sight, they stated, were the coffee plantations which are entirely in the shade of huge trees. One plantation was so large, Mrs. McDaniel said, that the owner had provided his own school and church for his workers and their families.

Thirty-five people from Illinois and surrounding states were on the tour.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel received a paid Caribbean cruise by the Philco Company for high sales.

Notes from Teen Town

By Linda Rude

Hi, Gang:
Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Woolard, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee House for chaperoning Friday and Monday nights. They say comments are being made by our chaperones that our juke box gets pretty loud by 11:30 p. m. (Could they really mean it, do you suppose?)

We have a brand new fan in the lounge and we've heard a rumor that there are more on the way for the ball-room. HURRAH!
It's been suggested that we all act as a hospitality committee and make an effort to greet all strangers. During the summer months we have lots of visitors from out of town. Let's make them feel at home and welcome. Don't

Robinson Leads Dodgers to 3-2 Win Over Braves; Reds Split; Cards Blank Pirates

By United Press

There are increasing whispers that this is Jackie Robinson's last year with Brooklyn but if the 37-year old veteran is bowing out, he's determined to give Dodger fans something to remember him by.

Most of all, perhaps, he is anxious to leave his mark with Jersey City's hyphenated "Dodger" fans, who keep booing him with a vehemence, the like of which he has never experienced since he broke into the majors 10 years ago.

Those Jersey City fans, whom he first alienated when he called them and their city "bush" earlier this season, roared him plenty Tuesday night, too, at Roosevelt Stadium, the Dodgers' home-away-from-home, but he answered them back by blasting a two-run homer in the second inning and then singling home the winning run in the ninth to beat the Braves, 3-2.

Moves Dodgers Up

Robinson's game-winning hit, which came off Dave Jolly and scored PeeWee Reese from second base, was a tremendous blow over center fielder Bill Bruton's head. It was doubly significant in that it moved the Dodgers within four games of the league-leading Braves again and that it came in the first game Robinson played for Brooklyn since July 14.

The second-place Redlegs also moved up on the Braves, climbing to within two games of Milwaukee by defeating the Giants, 7-3 in the nightcap of a two-night doubleheader after dropping the opener, 5-1. Southpaw Joe Margoneri limited the Redlegs to five hits in the first game as Jackie Brandt led New York's 10-hit offensive with a homer and two singles. Roy McMillan and Ray Jablonski each homered for Cincinnati in the nightcap which was clinched with a five-run outburst in the fifth. Hal Jeffcoat was the winner although Hersh Freeman relieved him in the eighth.

Monte Irvin put on a slugging show with his 11th homer, a double and two singles in the Cubs' 9-4 victory over the Phillies. Sam Jones, who had failed to win since June 17, stopped Philadelphia's four-game winning streak and picked up his fifth victory even though he needed help from Turk Lown in the seventh. Stan Lopata homered for the Phils.

Dickson Shuts Out Bucs

Knuckleballer Murry Dickson tossed a five-hitter for the Cardinals in sending the Pirates down to their sixth straight defeat, 7-0. Dickson allowed only one runner to reach third in registering his eighth triumph. The Cards got to George Munger for three runs in the first inning on Don Blasingame's double and singles by Wally Moon, Rip Repulski and Charley Peete. Pittsburgh's O'Brien twins, Johnny and Eddie, both saw duty as relief pitchers.

Cleveland, still entertaining faint pennant hopes in the American League, chipped the Yankees' lead to a still substantial nine games in whipping the New Yorkers, 5-0, with the aid of Early Wynn's three-hit pitching.

Wynn ended a Yankee winning streak of eight games over the Tribe in posting his 13th triumph. Johnny Kucks was the victim of a three-run rally in the second inning and suffered his sixth loss against 14 wins. Rocky Colavito homered for Cleveland.

Nats Defeat Chisox

Washington edged Chicago, 4-3, scoring what turned out to be the deciding run on Dick Donovan's wild pitch in the fourth inning. After scoring three runs in the third inning, the Senators tallied the clincher on singles by Lou Berberet and Jose Valdivelso and Donovan's wild pitch. Pedro Ramos gained his eighth victory although requiring relief from Bucky Stewart in the sixth.

Baltimore beat Kansas City, 5-1, marking the Orioles' 13th triumph over the Athletics in 16 meetings this season. Skinny Brown picked up his seventh victory, giving up KC's lone run on Harry Simpson's 16th homer.

Frank Lary's four-hit pitching plus homers by Al Kaline and Ray Boone paced Detroit to a 6-4 decision over Boston. Mickey Vernon homered for Boston. Bob Porterfield was the loser.

Walker's Win; VFW, Social Brethren Tie

By David Nelson

Walker's Cleaners defeated the Cubs, 8-7, and VFW and Social Brethren played to a 13-13 tie in Kiwanis league games Tuesday.

E. Cannon tripled home the winning run with two out in the last of the seventh to give Walker's an 8-7 victory over the Cubs. Potter and Cannon hurried for the winners, giving up only two hits and walking nine while striking out 12. Betz, the loser, tossed a three-hitter, walking only two while collecting 13 strikeouts. Potter homered and singled and Cannon tripled for Walker's while Lambert had both of the Cubs' hits. This game was protested by the Cubs.

Errors by Social Brethren cost them the victory as VFW managed to score five times in the seventh to gain a tie, 13-13. With two outs and the bases loaded in the last of the seventh Social Brethren led 13-9. Feazel singled to right, but after the play was over and four errors had been made the score was tied. B. Hagan and Agin pitched for Social Brethren giving up only four hits but walking 16 and striking out 5. Biggs was on the hill all the way for VFW and gave up seven hits and 12 bases on balls, striking out seven. E. Hagan, Stricklin and Cline had two hits each for Social Brethren and Feazel picked up two safe blows for the VFW. This game will be finished or replayed at a later date.

Sugar Bowl Will Be Played at New Orleans or Cancel

NEW ORLEANS — The 1956 Sugar Bowl basketball tournament will be held in New Orleans or cancelled.

Sugar Bowl officials announced after meeting Tuesday the tournament will not be held in some other city because of a new Louisiana law outlawing racially-mixed athletic events. Three of the four teams scheduled for the December tournament have already withdrawn because of the law.

There had been reports the event might be held elsewhere.

St. Louis, Notre Dame and Dayton withdrew from the tournament leaving Kentucky as the only entrant. The schools cited the law as denying students "regularly enrolled under conference and national intercollegiate athletic rules the opportunity to represent their schools."

Notre Dame and St. Louis both have Negro players. Dayton's action came from a team that will have no Negro players, and apparently means no teams outside the segregated south will be willing to take part in the tourney.

Chicago Slum Area Leads in Polio Cases

CHICAGO (U.P.) — Chicago's West Side continued to rank as seedbed of polio today with a report that 17 of the 27 newest cases occurred in the slum-marred area.

More than half of the cases in the city's current polio emergency, listed as the worst in the nation, were spawned in a 25 square-mile region west of the downtown section, doctors reported.

The latest available summary of new cases for the 24 hours ending at midnight Monday pushed the year's total to 449 cases. Eleven persons have died from the disease.

Mickey Rooney's Boat

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Mickey Rooney says he may name his new, unchristened $6,500 cabin cruiser "Stay Afloat." Someone reported the 22-foot boat had sunk after Rooney anchored it near Malibu, Calif. The actor rowed out to inspect the boat, found five inches of water in it and said, "Why is wasn't even listing."

Gray Says Rush for Adjournment by Congress Killed Distressed Areas Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D) 25th District of Illinois, today announced in Washington that the rush for adjournment and a temporary roadblock in the House Rules Committee were responsible for killing the Distressed Areas Bill for this session of Congress.

The Congressman stated that after many months of extensive hearings, both in Washington and in surplus labor areas throughout the United States, a companion measure to his Redevelopment Areas Bill was reported favorably from the House Committee on Banking and Currency. Before floor action could be taken, it was necessary that the House Committee on Rules grant a rule under which the bill would be considered, and due to a coalition of one Southern Democrat and five Republicans who were opposed to any Federal help to distressed areas, the Rules Committee failed to take any action.

Gray said strong sentiment for the bill was growing each day and if it had not been for the rush for adjournment, the temporary roadblock in the Rules Committee could have been eliminated and the bill brought up for a vote. He said he was confident the bill would have passed the House overwhelmingly if it could have reached the floor. He said both Democrats and Republicans who represent areas of high unemployment were very desirous of having the bill enacted into law to help induce new industries into the areas of unemployment.

The Senate in the closing hours of the session passed Senator Douglas' bill, S. 2663, by a vote of 60 to 30. The southern Illinois Congressman said the issue is by no means dead and predicted that it could be passed by both the House and Senate shortly after Congress reconvenes in January. The bill would have set up a Distressed Areas Administrator with broad powers; would have provided loans to prospective industries desiring to locate in areas such as Southern Illinois; and would have made available 75 million dollars in public grants to municipalities needing public works improvements. The Senate bill also provided 100 million dollars for rural area development for assistance to low-income farm families.

Paschen Says Stratton Should Fire Finance Director Hollingsworth

CHICAGO (UP)—Democrat Herbert C. Paschen said today that Gov. William G. Stratton should fire State Finance Director Morton H. Hollingsworth for not preventing the Hodge scandal.

Paschen, Democratic candidate for governor, said Hollingsworth should have been aware of the depletion of ex-State Auditor Orville

E. Hodge's funds, and of Hodge's failure to file financial reports.

"If Hollingsworth knew of State Auditor Orville Hodge's wild spending of state funds, and did nothing, he betrayed the people," Paschen said. "If he did not have the figures, the operations of the Finance Department have broken down, and Hollingsworth has failed the people."

First oil wells in Burma were plank-lined shafts dug by hand to depths of up to 400 feet.
